May Is Garage Door Safety Month – Look, Listen, Learn & Remember

[CITY, STATE] (DATE) – May is Garage Door Safety Month, an initiative of the International Door Association (IDA). To keep you and your family safe, [Company Name] in [City] is participating in Garage Door Safety Month this May and is available to discuss important safety issues, tips for garage door safety, and how to prevent getting scammed by un reputable contractors in the industry.

“[Company Name] has been in [City] for over [XX] years,” says [Company Representative]. “We care about the safety of our customers and want to help keep families safe. As of late, individuals have been imitating reputable companies and providing poor service, bait and switch tactics and overcharging people and we want people to know [Company Name] is here to help.”

[Company Name] offers easy to remember tips for garage door safety:

1. LOOK at the garage door, springs, cables and rollers for wear and tear
2. LISTEN for grinding or scraping sounds
3. LEARN
 - Keep the garage door opener and remote control out of reach of children
 - Keep fingers and hands away from door sections and moving doors
 - Keep garage doors closed and remote controls out of sight to deter theft
4. REMEMBER if you find any concerns regarding your garage door, contact a trained garage door professional and research thoroughly to avoid getting scammed.

If you suspect any problems with your door system and need a qualified dealer, contact [Company Name] at [Phone, Email, or Website].
